Clyde Salmon Homecoming Conference

The Status and Future of Salmon in the River Clyde
University of Glasgow, 10:00-15:00

The return of the iconic Atlantic salmon to the River Clyde is one of the biggest good-news stories in freshwater biology. The Clyde River Foundation invites you to attend a one-day conference about the status and future of the species in one of the most urban salmon fisheries in the world.

This conference is aimed at anyone with an interest in salmon biology, fishery management or in the ecology of the Clyde system.

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

Professor Colin Bean (Scottish Natural Heritage)
Karen Dobbins (Clyde and Avon Valley Landscape Partnership)
Aaron Hamilton (Machanhill Primary School)
Dr Phil McGinnity (University College Cork)
Professor Neil Metcalfe (University of Glasgow)
Paul Reid (River Clyde Fisheries Management Trust)
Dr Willie Yeomans (Clyde River Foundation)
